Reference model → CareSync adaptation

Practical education → original DSP resource sessions. Technology demonstrations → permission-based virtual demos using fictional examples. Exhibitor conversations → invited employer and resource booths. Interdisciplinary networking → CareSyncIN café. Implementation discussions → a personal follow-up plan.
This is an independent CareSync event, not an online broadcast or ADCES-affiliated edition. The detailed 2027 session agenda was not reliably accessible during research; this original program uses verified broad event features.

Room and staffing plan

Main stage: host + co-host + timekeeper. Tech Lab: qualified guest educator + demo assistant. Career Café: moderator + mentor volunteers. Resource Lounge: DSP facilitator + privacy-conscious follow-up coordinator. Start with one shared Zoom meeting and scheduled breakouts; expand only after staffing is confirmed.

Every-hour run of show

00–05 welcome and learning goal; 05–25 presentation or demonstration; 25–30 resource recap; 30–50 moderated dialogue or breakouts; 50–58 next steps; 58–60 transition. Never let a delayed demo remove the dialogue time.

Registration and follow-up

Use the established uRecruits DSP pathway. Ask registrants to add “CareSync Tech 2027” in notes or email DiaBuddy@CareSyncConcierge.com from their registered address. Log event interest and language, verify the registration handoff, then send Zoom details before the event. Do not claim automatic delivery. Send a resource recap and requested introductions within two business days; arrange private care conversations separately.

Partner invitation plan

Invite technology educators, device/platform providers, employers, schools and resource organizations. Ask each for a practical demo or transparent opportunity, a moderator contact and approval for recording or sharing. NeedyMeds, Diabetes Foundation and BodySite appear as public-resource tour topics; their representatives are not confirmed.

Free access and optional support

All attendee education, networking and career exploration is free. Optional sponsorship can reuse the Renew Your Vows structure: Community $180; Partner $360; Vendor $540, subject to an approved agreement describing recognition and access. No employer receives attendee contact details without consent. No tax-deductibility claim. Separate optional PharmDEBT Relief Fund information from registration; define eligibility, allocation and disbursement terms before taking funds for this campaign.

Launch milestones

October: finalize event identity and host team. November: invite speakers, employers and mentors; verify registration routing. December: confirm program and accessibility; launch public outreach. January 2: finalize room leads and permissioned assets. January 8: technical rehearsal. January 11: send access instructions and reminders. January 15–16: deliver the event. January 19–20: consent-based follow-up and team review.

Success measures

Track saved event-interest requests, verified registrations, actual attendance, career conversations, permissioned mentor matches, requested DSP/ACSP next steps and completed follow-ups. Optional gifts and fund distributions are tracked separately. No invented attendance target or promised income/debt outcomes.
